DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The listing of references in the specification is not a proper information disclosure statement. 37 CFR 1.98(b) requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office, and MPEP § 609.04(a) states, "the list may not be incorporated into the specification but must be submitted in a separate paper." Therefore, unless the references have been cited by the examiner on form PTO-892, they have not been considered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

3. Claims 7-9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chou (6309580) in view of Hubert (6957608).

Chou teaches the use of a release agent 17 on a surface and having a nanoimprint stamp having features 16 for forming ultra-fine patterns. The nanoimprinting of Chou does not have the material entering into the recessed portion 16a.

Chou fails to teach application of the release agent specifically on the convex surface of the pattern.

Hubert teaches a modified stamp 300 with protruding surfaces 311', 313', 315', and 317'. The stamp is brought into contact with the surface modifier 326 so that the modifier is on the protruding surfaces 311, 313, 315, and 317. The surface modifier can be a variety of materials (c. 7, l. 22-29). Hubert teaches the concept of differentiated protruding surfaces that is coated and different from the recessed surface (c. 7, l. 1-54). In summary, that a selected surface of the stamp is coated.

In regards to claim 9, the layer thickness of the release agent is dependent upon the amount applied and can be varied upon the application process. It can be varied upon the desires of the user and thus one skilled in the art recognizes that the thickness of the release agent can be modified according to amount desired for application.

It would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Chou with application of a surface modifier as taught by Hubert because it allows for application of a surface modifier upon a targeted region of the surface.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 7-9 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. References of Hubert in view of Chou have been used to address the application of the release agent only upon the convex portion of the surface of a nanoprinting apparatus.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Hamanaka (6069740) and Kunimoto (2001/0012596).
